

Arthrex Named a Top Company in Health Care by LinkedIn

(NAPLES, Florida – June 23, 2022) – Arthrex, a global leader in minimally invasive orthopedic technology, is ranked second on the 2022 LinkedIn Top Companies in Health Care list.

“We’re honored to be among the top 25 companies in the country investing in talent and helping people build careers that set them up for long-term success in the health care industry,” said Arthrex Senior Vice President of Human Resources Kathy Sparrow.

The rankings are based on unique LinkedIn data measuring different elements of career progression and are meant to serve as a resource for professionals at all stages of their careers at a personalized level, according to LinkedIn. The data reflects active LinkedIn member profiles and is based on LinkedIn membership and their profiles.

Among the insights featured, LinkedIn highlights Arthrex for employees’ skills in Medical Devices, SOLIDWORKS design and engineering software use, and CAM (computer aided manufacturing) programming. The list also features Arthrex’s largest job functions as Information Technology, Quality Assurance and Research.

Arthrex Supply Chain Manager Hasan Kajtezovic is quoted as part of the company’s feature within the rankings, saying “At Arthrex, it’s dynamic, challenging and you are always in the process of learning. Supply chain is definitely a team effort, and everyone in this group brings unique experience and ideas to the table.”
